- The Worked All Europe log mailing address has changed this year and has been published incorrectly by various sources. The WAE Web site (www.darc.de/referate/dx/fedcw.htm) has been updated to show the correct address as WAEDC Contest Committee, PO Box 2141, D-64532 Moerfelden-Walldorf, Germany. (Thanks, Ben DL6RAI) [Tnx F5NQL]

- New IOTA software not launched! The early editions of the GB2RS news-script for this week included an announcement that 'slick new web-based software has been launched to make the programme easier to use, and plans are in motion to expand the number of IOTA contests and awards.' That text is, at the time of writing, also still being displayed on the RSGB website. Please note that this statement is completely incorrect. Further information on the new web-based software, which is still being written, will be announced at the RSGB HF and IOTA Convention next month. [Tnx M0BLF]

- The RSGB's popular IOTA programme will be sponsored by ICOM for a three year period beginning on October 1, 2006. According to RSGB IOTA Committee chairman John Butcher, G3LAS, "it will greatly help to promote the programme worldwide at a time when a significant investment is being made by the RSGB in the development of an important new software system for IOTA participants." [Tnx RSGB IOTA]
